Sean Rowe

TOMORROW

Rowe’s deep, bellowing, resounding voice matches the intensity of his hard-hitting folk-rock songs.

“Sean Rowe’s voice, a room-rattling baritone, demands attention. The stories he tells with it are portraits that feel simple on the surface . . . they never are.”

—NPR Music

Friday, June 30 | 7:30 p.m.

Tickets: $23.50–$30.50

Las Cafeteras

Born in the streets of Los Angeles, Las Cafeteras are children of immigrants who are remixing roots music and telling modern-day stories with what the Los Angeles Times has called a “uniquely Angeleno mishmash of punk, hip-hop, beat music, cumbia and rock . . . live, they’re magnetic.”

“Las Cafeteras are storytellers, cultural ambassadors and above all musicians translating often-political themes into music that blends traditional Mexican folk tunes with the beat of the East Los Angeles streets.”

—New Haven Register

Saturday, July 1 | 7:30 p.m.

Tickets: $35.50–$40.50

Kathy Mattea

The unmistakable voice of Grammy-winner Kathy Mattea explores music’s most basic human essence through timeless melodies and uplifting narratives.

“Mattea remains one of Nashville’s most spiritual singers, and the songs she sings about love lost and humility are as fine as any she has recorded.”

Sunday, July 2 | 8:00 p.m.

Tickets: $38.50–$48.50

Pat Martino Trio

One of the greatest guitarists in jazz, Pat Martino, together with his trio, presents an evening of unparalleled jazz virtuosity.

“Pat Martino has achieved the enviable state for a musician, or indeed for anybody, where he defines his work rather than it defining him.”

—All About Jazz

Thursday, July 6 | 7:30 p.m.

Tickets: $38.50–$43.50

Lucy Kaplansky

Blending country, folk, and pop styles, Lucy Kaplansky has the unique ability to make every song sound fresh, whether singing her own sweet originals, covering country classics by June Carter Cash and Gram Parsons, or singing pop favorites by the Beatles and Nick Lowe.

“Kaplansky weaves . . . fragile lives together, making even tenuous connections as palpable as flesh and blood.”

—USA Today

Friday, July 7 | 7:30 p.m.

Tickets: $28.50–$38.50

Paris Chansons

Their exhilarating performances are punctuated by traditional jazz standards in addition to classics in Russian, Italian, and other languages.

“Almost every one of the 21 songs performed was upbeat and seemed to be an audience favorite as many sang along.”

—Broadway World

Saturday, July 8 | 7:30 p.m.

Tickets: $38.50–$48.50
