Pat Martino Trio

TONIGHT

One of the greatest guitarists in jazz, Pat Martino, together with his trio, presents an evening of unparalleled jazz virtuosity.

“Pat Martino has achieved the enviable state for a musician, or indeed for anybody, where he defines his work rather than it defining him.”

Lucy Kaplansky

TOMORROW

Blending country, folk, and pop styles, Lucy Kaplansky has the unique ability to make every song sound fresh, whether singing her own sweet originals, covering country classics by June Carter Cash and Gram Parsons, or singing pop favorites by the Beatles and Nick Lowe.

“Kaplansky weaves . . . fragile lives together, making even tenuous connections as palpable as flesh and blood.”

Paris Chansons

Their exhilarating performances are punctuated by traditional jazz standards in addition to classics in Russian, Italian, and other languages.

“Almost every one of the 21 songs performed was upbeat and seemed to be an audience favorite as many sang along.”

Saturday, July 8 | 7:30 p.m.
Tickets: $38.50–$48.50

Federspiel

This seven-piece ensemble redefines brass-band music. Incredible skills meet youthful and charming freshness in arrangements that weave through mariachi, mazurka, Germanic folk tunes, and more.

“These guys are conservatory trained, which I think gives them all a very sweet and strong embouchure. Their repertoire reflects interests that range far afield, from Bulgaria to Mexico. It is this combination of musical adventure and classical diligence that creates Federspiel’s strength. They are remarkably controlled, subtle and even spiritual.”

Sunday, July 9 | 7:00 p.m.
Tickets: $33.50–$43.50

Eagle Rock Gospel Singers

Influenced by past gospel musicians as well as current bands such as the Black Keys, Wilco, and Calexico, Eagle Rock creates a unique style drawing from rhythm and blues, alt-country, indie rock, and folk.

“A rip-roaring, soaring batch of rootsy-flavored originals written by the band’s individual members, who took their songwriting cues from the greatest and most venerable of American trad musical genres.”
—LA Weekly

Monday, July 10 | 7:00 p.m.
Tickets: $23.50–$28.50

Catherine Russell

Catherine Russell is that rarest of entities—a genuine jazz and blues singer—who can sing virtually anything. Her voice is full-blown femininity incarnate, a dusky, stalwart, and soulful instrument that radiates interpretive power yet remains touchingly vulnerable.

“In a varied career, Russell has established herself as a force in the jazz, blues and pop spheres.”
