

Amy helps each year because "everyone deserves a happy holiday season."

Each year, Amy makes personal donations and rallies her friends to support Scottsdale's Adopt-A-Senior program.

"I hate to think of any one of my neighbors feeling lonely or forgotten, especially around the holidays," says Amy. "Everyone deserves a happy holiday season, and we can help make that happen."

Adopt-A-Senior relies on donations from the community to provide personal items, a grocery gift card and a glimmer of holiday spirit for low-income seniors and disabled adults in Scottsdale.

But despite the efforts of people like Amy, this year more than 100 low-income seniors and adults won't receive assistance unless we find more donors for the program.

Will you join Amy and others to brighten the holiday season for our neighbors?

It's easy - you can donate the items people request, or donate money so the items can be purchased. Time is running out - the deadline is Dec. 1.
