Tickets: $33.50–$38.50

Elizabeth Cook

Opening Act: Lee Harvey Osmond

Elizabeth Cook is a regular Grand Ole Opry performer who has appeared on the longtime radio broadcast more than 400 times since making her debut in 2000. She has recently overcome tragedy that has included a divorce, six deaths, and a fire at her family’s homestead.

“Ms. Cook’s music, an eclectic mix of old-school country, honky-tonk, gospel and rockabilly, has been embraced by country’s most time-honored traditionalists as well as singers and songwriters like John Prine and Jason Isbell.”

Lonely Heartstring Band & Mipso

A Night of Bluegrass at Arizona Musicfest's FALL FEST

Presented by Arizona Musicfest

Two of the genre's hottest bands come to Arizona Musicfest for a double-bill of bluegrass. Combining soulful virtuosity with soaring three-part harmonies, The Lonely Heartstring Band, 2015 International Bluegrass Music Association “Momentum Award” winners, are “in a class by themselves” (Tony Trischka, banjo legend).

“Renegade traditionalists” Mipso, take four-part harmony and Appalachian influences into new territory with their imaginative songwriting, sharp lyrics, and rhythmically powerful sound. With #1 Billboard Bluegrass Chart recordings and “Best Record of the Year” praise for their “lush and moving songs” (The Guardian), Mipso features an intoxicating, distinctly unique blend of modern day Americana.

Tuesday, November 1 | 7:30 p.m.
Tickets: $35.00–$59.00

Location: Pinnacle Presbyterian Church
