Acronis

Acronis continues strong U.S. growth expanding operations to Scottsdale

Acronis, a global leader in hybrid cloud data protection, announced in late September the opening of its new technology center in Scottsdale, adding to its other U.S. offices in Massachusetts, Virginia and California. Located at the recently opened Quad office project, the new center will contain the inside sales organization for Acronis. The City of Scottsdale Economic Development team assisted Acronis in facilitating the lease at the new building.
